

Bozburun Peninsula

Marmaris, Turkey

The Bozburun Peninsula

The Bozburun Peninsula is one of the most beautiful parts of Turkey as it is protected by the Government and classed as a natural environment. This means that all development is severely limited with high rise construction banned throughout the peninsula.

Because of this, the Bozburun Peninsula is often referred to as a living museum as the way of life is largely unchanged from decades ago. This makes it very attractive to visitors who are looking for a wonderfully relaxing place to stay, and explore the villages dotted along the peninsula. Compared to bustling Marmaris, all the villages along the Bozburun Peninsula are quiet and you will find the locals very friendly.

Bozburun Peninsula

The Bozburun Peninsula is only 25km away from bustling Marmaris, but it is a world away from the bright lights of Marmaris.

On the Bozburun Peninsula you will discover the true unspoilt Turkey, a peaceful haven away from the bustle of modern life, a world away from Turkey's mass tourism resorts.

Bozburun Peninsula Food

You can find a huge variety of food on the Bozburun Peninsula ranging from simple 'pide' restaurants, wonderful fresh fish restaurants, to sophisticated International cuisine restaurants.

Getting There

Dalaman (DLM) is the nearest airport and is well served by charter and scheduled flights from Europe all year round. We can arrange transfers from Dalaman direct to your Villa or Luxury Gulet Cruise which take approximately two hours.

The nearest large city is bustling Marmaris, which has great shopping and some of the liveliest night night in Turkey.

Further information on the Peninsula at www.BozburunPeninsula.com

